

ARE CLAIMING THE DELEGATES

That Were Not Instructed For Any Candidate At The National Republican Convention.

STATE POLITICS ARE MIXED TODAY

La Follette Leaders Claim Barnes' Election Will Be A Victory For Their Side Of The Political Fight.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., April 2.—By counting uninstructed delegates as in the La Follette column, the campaign managers of the senator are trying to make it appear that they have secured votes outside of Wisconsin. This is a very old political game played by the La Follette faction in this state, but is somewhat novel in the present instance, because the bluff is so certain to be shown up. Years ago when La Follette had to go through conventions here he counted doubtful, uninstructed and contested delegates in his favor in the caucus state, and sometimes was able to make the claim stand up with the assistance of his state central committee in the determination of contests, such as was true in the case of the last state convention. There are evidences of "unpopularity" in the La Follette campaign here, as though the Taft movement was getting altogether too formidable. Just why this is so is not disclosed, for the opinion prevails that La Follette will get a large part of the Wisconsin delegates. He is dead sure of one, because Assemblyman L. N. Clausen of Washburn, who was nominated as a Taft delegate in the eleventh district, declined on account of local complications. No successor to Mr. Clausen could be nominated in time, and therefore there is only one Taft candidate in the eleventh district. The La Follette people tried to get Thomas Pringle of Milwaukee, mayorally candidate, to declare for La Follette, under threat of holding him at the polls, but received no encouragement. "The La Follette people are already claiming that the election of John Barnes to the supreme court is assured and that this will be due to the La Follette people, because A. W. Barnes, chairman of the La Follette people, is also chairman of the Barnes campaign committee. Friends of Senator La Follette are alarmed lest the vote of the La Follette men shall be divided between two sets of delegates professing friendship for the senator and that because of this division the anti-La Follette delegates may be elected in the eighth congressional district. Thomas Nelson of Milwaukee and George Nelson of Stevens Point were selected at a meeting of the La Follette leaders in the eighth district because these men were considered among the strongest halfhearted campaigners in the district. No sooner had the announcement been made than Florian Lampert of Oshkosh and Dr. Gehde of Manitowish were entered in the field, both professing friendship for Senator La Follette. Closely upon the heels of this came the announcement that Dr. J. R. Curran of Manitowish and Mr. Paul of Oshkosh would stand as the anti-La Follette delegates. Lampert and Gehde, both members of the state central committee, are waging a spirited campaign against Taft and Nelson, Torison and Nelson are recording the support of the La Follette headquarters at Madison. The campaign has an added interest growing out of the fact that some of the friends of La Follette had counted upon Mr. Nelson as the man to present the senator's name to the national convention. Mr. Nelson is a speaker of considerable reputation and has a voice well suited to addressing a large audience such as the republican national convention, will be. His friends are determined that he shall not be denied the honor if three less campaigning can secure his election. On the other hand the Lampert people assert that Mr. Nelson will be compelled to keep his speech in cold storage until another time.

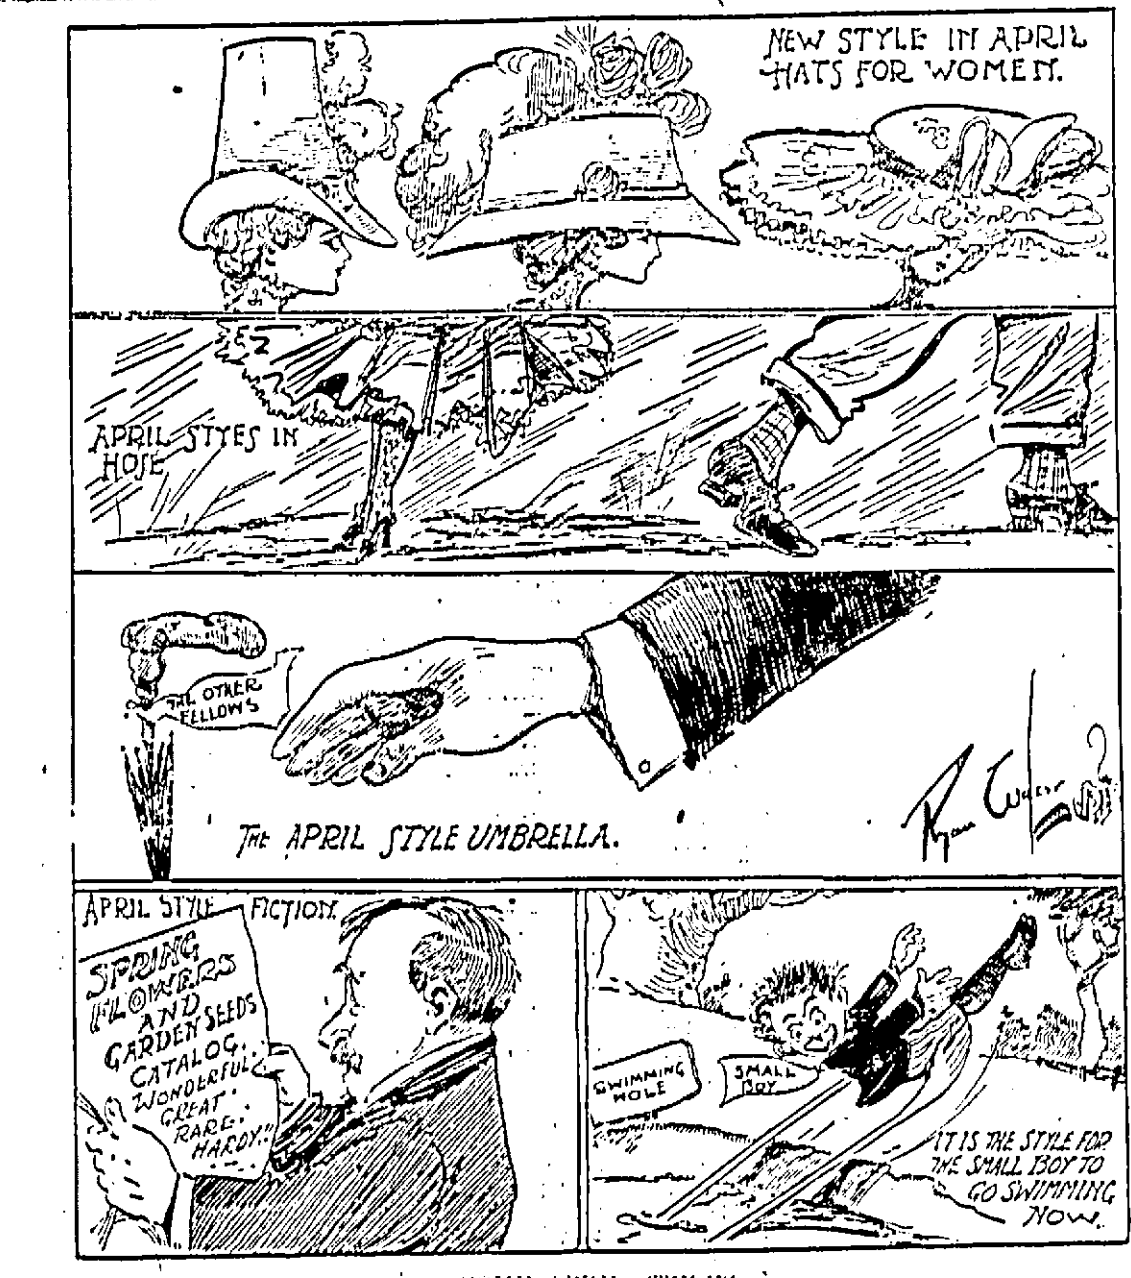

THOMAS JEFFERSON AND HIS HOME AT MONTICELLO.

Today marks the one hundred and sixty-fifth anniversary of the birth of that great man, Thomas Jefferson, third president of the United States. He was born at Shadwell, Virginia, April 2, 1753. "Here lies buried Thomas Jefferson, author of the declaration of independence, of the statute of Virginia for religious freedom and father of the University of Virginia." Such is the epitaph on Jefferson's tombstone. This tribute to one of America's greatest men is so simply worded that its force is scarcely grasped. A man would indeed be great who had accomplished any one of the three things mentioned in the above epitaph, and yet these are only incidents in the career of a man who had so much to do with the basic principles of the new combination of states. Thomas Jefferson is hailed as the great democrat. He was the founder of the democratic party.

STRASUS WILL SPEAK AT GEORGIA BANQUET RAILROAD MEN WILL CONSIDER NEW LAW COMMENCEMENT DAY AT INDIAN SCHOOL

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Washington, D. C., April 2.—Oscar S. Straus, secretary of commerce and labor, left the capital today for Savannah, Ga., where he is to be the guest of honor at the annual banquet of the commercial and trade organizations of that city. Secretary Straus has been anticipating with much pleasure his visit to Georgia, as it was in that state that he passed the years of his boyhood. [SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Chicago, Ill., April 2.—Committee representing the general managers of all the Western railroads met in conference here today to take up disputes arising under the operation of the new sixteen-hour law, which recently went into effect. Since the law went into operation the railroads claim that as a matter of necessity they have been obliged to close many of their switching telegraph offices throughout the country and otherwise reduce their working forces. The labor men want to know just how far this reduction is going. The necessary rearrangement of divisions in order to comply with the terms of the law is another troublesome problem that confronts both parties. As many of the old divisions cannot be covered inside the sixteen-hour limit set by law, the question of compensation has arisen. The managers say that if trains are sidetracked to comply with the law they cannot pay the employees continuous time as in the past. To abandon division headquarters means a large financial loss to a railroad and also a serious loss to the men on account of decrease in the values of real estate. Many of the men have obtained their homes and property rights at division headquarters, which are growing towns, simply because they are division headquarters. On most of the large systems, it is claimed, the regulations are such that the crews do not work more than sixteen hours, except in cases of emergency. The new law, however, makes no exceptions for emergencies, and makes impossible the old practice of doubling back by crews after a few hours' rest to the home headquarters, where they are given twenty-four or thirty-six hours' rest. [SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Paris, April 2.—The transfer of the body of M. Zola to the Pantheon, which was to have taken place today with elaborate ceremony, has been postponed until June, in accordance with a decision arrived at by the Cabinet. The postponement was due to the urgent request of Mme. Zola, widow of the famous novelist. Mme. Zola found that the tomb was not ready to receive her husband's body. She feared that under the circumstances it would be a profanation for the remains to be removed before the tomb was ready to receive them. In her plea for a postponement of the ceremony she cited the case of Victor Hugo, whose body remained six months on the floor of the Pantheon, while the workmen piled their tools on the coffin, and used it as a table for their luncheon and wine. CHILD LABOR REGULATION IS SUBJECT OF MEETING

Fourth Annual Meeting Of National Child Labor Committee Opens Today.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Atlanta, Ga., April 2.—Several hundred men and women, including religious workers, educators, philanthropists and others of wide prominence, assembled in Atlanta today to discuss the question of securing adequate protection for the hundreds of thousands of tolling children throughout the United States. The occasion is the fourth annual meeting of the National Child Labor committee, an organization which has already accomplished much in the direction of solving the problem of child labor in factories, mines and other industries. "There is perhaps no body in the United States more widely representative than the National Child Labor committee. Among its noted members are President Roosevelt, Secretary Taft, Cardinal Gibbons, ex-President Cleveland, Senator Tillman, Miss Jane Addams, Governor Hoke Smith of Georgia, President Elliot of Harvard university, Felix Adler and Clifford Plachot. The objects of the committee as outlined in the call for the present gathering are to assist in protecting by suitable legislation against premature or otherwise injurious employment, and thus to aid in securing for them an opportunity for elementary education and physical development sufficient for the demands of citizenship and the requirements of industrial efficiency. The initial session today was held in the auditorium of the Piedmont hotel. After the preliminary business of organization had been disposed of the committee listened to addresses by Senator Roberts of Pennsylvania and General Secretary O. H. Lovejoy. Senator Roberts discussed the question, "What is Good Child Labor Law?" and Secretary Lovejoy took as his subject, "Uniformity of State Laws." Ex-President Cleveland and Secretary Taft sent letters expressing their sympathy with the work of the committee and regretting their inability to attend the conference in person.

EVANSVILLE MAN IS SLATED FOR TURNKEY

Name of C. G. Mills is Only One Mentioned Thus Far—Janesville Man Arrested at Beloit Today. Sheriff L. O. Fisher, who departed yesterday for Somerset, Wis., to register with 2,500 others for a treatment from the plaster healer, is expected home tomorrow, and upon his arrival it will be necessary for him to secure the services of a new turnkey to succeed Under Sheriff George Appleby, who has resigned to become city marshal. In the meantime the sheriff, Fred Gillman of Evansville is Acting Sheriff. The name of C. G. Mills of Evansville, who was on scout duty under General Lawton in the Philippines and who was one of the few to escape alive from a terrible railroad wreck in Washington state about a year ago, is mentioned in this connection and he will probably be given the appointment if he can be persuaded to accept it.

Dan Griffin as Usher. Chief Rhody Schelbel arrived from Beloit this afternoon with John Gunderson and Edward Kearns, both sentenced to spend ten days in jail in lieu of paying fines and costs of $3.35 each for drunkenness. In town, As Acting Sheriff Gillman opened the inner door for Gunderson he called: "Here, Dan, show this man to a cell!" "You bet I will!" responded the genial usher, Griffin.

Left Cow and Wife at Home. Kearns told a sad story of a fall from grace as the result of the first vacation he had ever had after holding his nose to the grindstone for many years. He had no money but assured the officer that he would send it if allowed to go back to his cow and horse and wife and little children who needed him. His home, he said, was near Shirland, Ill., and he had never been arrested before. An effort will be made to acquaint some of his friends with his plight and get them to pay the fine.

Who Can It Be? Chief Schelbel said that just before he left Beloit this afternoon a heavy built, red-headed man from Janesville was locked up. This party had a well filled purse and a return ticket to Janesville on his person. The chief did not learn his name.

LEWIS CALLS A CONFERENCE

MINERS' CHIEF INVITES OPERATORS TO INDIANAPOLIS.

Question of Reviving Interstate Agreement in Central Competitive Field To Be Discussed.

Indianapolis, Ind., Apr. 2.—The first official act of President T. L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers of America in assuming his office Wednesday was to send telegraphic invitations to the principal operators of the central competitive field, consisting of western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, to attend a meeting in this city Monday, April 6, with representatives of the miners to make an effort to agree upon a call for an interstate wage convention and if necessary to decide upon a general resumption of mining operations in the field. The telegrams were couched in the form of a question of a preliminary nature asking the operators if they would be willing to attend such a meeting.

President Lewis said Wednesday night he had received a number of replies, most of which were favorable to the move, but he had not yet received enough to determine finally the result. He is confident, however, that the move will result in a resumption of work in the mines of the district, the rehabilitation of the interstate movement in this field and in consequence the rehabilitation of the interstate movement in the southwest field and the outlying districts. Ohio operators have wired their acceptance of the invitation. Indiana operators during the negotiations this winter have expressed a willingness to go into joint conference any time. The Indiana mines are running. The result will be in the hands of western Pennsylvania and Illinois operators.

Indianapolis, Ind., Apr. 2.—John Mitchell, retired president of the United Mine Workers of America, announced Wednesday that in future he will devote his attention to a labor paper which he will establish in Indianapolis. The object of the paper is the securing of industrial peace between the miners and operators of the country.

PUSHING AGRICULTURAL BILL.

Good Progress Made in House—Clark Attacks Donaparte.

Washington, Apr. 2.—Debate of the agricultural appropriation bill in the house Wednesday was devoid of the charges and imputations which marked its consideration on Monday and Tuesday. More progress was made with the measure than on any previous day, and the indications are that it will finally get through Thursday.

The session was opened with a bitter attack on Attorney General Donaparte by Mr. Clark of Florida, who denounced him as being no lawyer and unfit to hold his office. The occasion for the utterance was the reporting out of committee of a resolution by Mr. Clark calling for a statement of the expense connected with peonage investigations and prosecutions. That the resolution was simply a further and unnecessary attack on the attorney general by Mr. Clark was the declaration of Mr. Canfield of Missouri, who led the opposition. The resolution was tabled.

The passage of a bill authorizing the construction of a dam across the Snake river in the state of Washington and the consideration of a measure for adjudicating the claims of states against the government account of the disposition of the proceeds of public lands occupied nearly the entire session of the senate.

Missouri, Palmer Murdered. St. Louis, Apr. 2.—Word was received from Vienna, Mo., Wednesday that A. J. Curtis, a wealthy farmer, had been assassinated at his home and the house ransacked. It is believed $300 was stolen. Curtis was called outside his door and killed with a charge of buckshot. Bloodhounds were secured from Jefferson City and a posse is scouring the country.

Attempt to Wreck Passenger Train. Kankakee, Ill., Apr. 2.—An attempt was made Wednesday to wreck an Illinois Central passenger train from Bloomington. A piece of rail two feet long was removed from the track between Charlotte and Cullom and carried away. A farmer, walking down the track, stopped the train just in time to prevent a wreck.

LOCAL PILGRIMS TO SOMERSET VILLAGE

Twenty-five Rock County People to Receive Treatment from "Dr." Till, Plaster Specialist. Sheriff L. O. Fisher, who has been severely afflicted of late with rheumatism in the back, his daughter, Mrs. Clara Dixon, Mrs. George Smith, and William Crow, are members of a delegation of seventeen from Janesville and eight from Evansville which departed yesterday for the little hamlet of Somerset, Wis., located about ten miles from St. Paul, to take treatment of "Dr." John Till, the famous Austrian plaster specialist and curer. Mrs. Dixon has already taken one treatment and believes she has been much benefited. Till's practice has temporarily increased the population of the little village from 300 to 1,500 and it is now necessary to make arrangements several weeks ahead to get prompt attention despite the fact that he has been treating 300 or more a day since court proceedings against him were dismissed by Judge Helms at Hudson last week.

PINCHOT DEFENDS HIMSELF

CHIEF OF FORESTRY DENIES THE CHARGES OF SOLONS.

Says Neither He Nor Forestry Service Has Paid for Advertising the Bureau's Work.

Washington, Apr. 2.—In view of the allegation against him on the floor of the house by Messrs. Mondell of Wyoming, Smith of California and others, Gifford Pinchot, chief of the forestry bureau, has addressed a letter to Mr. Pollard of Nebraska, a member of the committee on agriculture, in defense of himself.

Mr. Pinchot denies that either the forestry service or himself ever paid a cent to any newspaper or magazine to advertise the bureau's work; denies that either his bureau or himself ever instigated or procured attacks on public men, and denies the misuse of public funds.

"It is obvious," he says, "to anyone who will consider the matter for a moment, that the character, intelligence and news sense of Washington and other correspondents, and of every editor and writer who has ever made use of our material, is the most effective barrier to any such scheme of work as the forest service has been charged with." The surest way to prevent any fair consideration of the bureau's work by the press, he says, "would be to attempt just such a campaign of puffing or exaggeration as has been charged." No newspaper men, he says further, ever received material from the forest service who did not know it came from the forest service.

Mr. Pinchot closes his letter by defending his policy of sending forest officials to meetings of forestry bodies, in order to hear complaints, if any, against the service or to give suggestions.

EMPLOYERS' BILL READY SOON.

Final Amendments Agreed to by House Committee.

Washington, Apr. 2.—The house judiciary committee Wednesday cleared the way for a speedy report of the employers' liability bill. Final amendments were agreed to and Mr. Sterling of Illinois, the author of the measure, was given authority to re-draft the bill accordingly. In its new form the bill will be reported to the house next Friday, with the recommendation that it pass.

The committee struck out the paragraph, originally desired by the president, extending the liability of railroad companies to employees on mail cars without regard to whether those cars are engaged in interstate transportation of the mail. This clause was eliminated at the suggestion of the friends of the bill, who feared it would invalidate the whole measure.

LA CROSSE LID IS DOWN.

Gambling Houses Closed and Other Evil Places Warned.

LA CROSSE, Wis., Apr. 2.—For the first time in 11 years the lid was put on light in La Crosse Wednesday. Every gambling house was closed under orders of Mayor Anderson. The houses of ill-repute were given two weeks to close and it was announced that none would be permitted in La Crosse after April 15. It is expected that the next step will be the closing of saloons on Sundays.

La Crosse has had the reputation of being one of the most wide-open cities in the country but a change is promised under the present regime.

MRS. VANDERBILT SUES HER HUSBAND

PAPERS FILED JUST AFTER ALFRED SAILS FOR EUROPE.

SHE MAY ASK A DIVORCE

Precise Nature of the Action Against the Multi-Millionaire Is Not Disclosed by Attorneys.

New York, Apr. 2.—Within an hour after he had sailed for Europe Wednesday, Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt was made the defendant in a suit filed with the supreme court by his wife, Ellen French Vanderbilt. The nature of the action was not immediately disclosed and counsel for the plaintiff refused to say whether Mrs. Vanderbilt seeks a divorce or legal separation from her husband.

It was said late Wednesday night by an official in the county courthouse, who saw the papers in the case, that Mrs. Vanderbilt's action is one for absolute divorce.

Justice O'Gorman, before whom the proceedings were instituted, appointed David McClure, a local attorney, as referee to hear testimony and to report findings and recommendations to the court.

Had secrecy for the time being been wished, the action of counsel could not have been better timed. The offices of the county clerk are closed at four o'clock in the afternoon. Only a few minutes before that hour the comparing clerk received the papers. By the time he was through with them it was too late for the papers to be officially recorded.

Have Been Married Seven Years.

Mrs. Vanderbilt was Ellen French, daughter of the late Francis Ormond French, president of the Manhattan

Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt.

Trust company and director of many railroads. Her mother has been abroad for several years but is returning for the wedding of her granddaughter, Miss Pauline Leroy French, and Samuel Wagaroff, to take place at Newport on May 5. Ellen, or as she was more generally known, Elsie, French was married to Alfred Vanderbilt on January 11, 1901. A year later their only child, William Henry, was born.

Mr. Vanderbilt, as the second son of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt, inherited something like $60,000,000. He has been regarded as the head of the family since the estrangement which followed the marriage of Cornelius, the eldest son, to Miss Grace Wilson. During the past year or so Mr. Vanderbilt has spent much of his time abroad. But recently he returned from London, where he plans to drive the coach Venture as a public coach this spring between London and Brighton. Later he is to be one of the judges at the international horse show at London where his horses won many trophies last year.

Went to Her Brother's Home.

The domestic affairs of Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt have engaged public attention since March 24, when Mrs. Vanderbilt, accompanied by their son and maid, left Oakland Farm, near Newport, R. I., and went to the home of her brother, Anna Tuck French, at Tuxedo Park, this state. Much of the furnishings at the Newport home have been shipped to Tuxedo Park. The French cottage at Tuxedo Park, which is known as "Tuck's Eden," has been put into shape. It is said, for continued occupancy. Mr. Vanderbilt while here has had apartments at the Plaza hotel. Neither he nor his wife would discuss the reports which gained circulation after her removal from Newport.

Resort Hotels Are Burned.

Mendocino, Pa., Apr. 2.—A fire which started in the basement of the Taylor hotel, at Conneaut Lake, Pa., a pleasure resort, near here, threatened to destroy the town and was sent from here on a special train. The hotel, the Chilcott house, and several other buildings were destroyed.

Ammonia Explosion Hurts Ten.

Omaha, Neb., Apr. 2.—Ten men were more or less injured by the explosion of an ammonia gas tank at the plant of the Cudahy Packing company Wednesday afternoon. Only one man, Peter Wolf, was seriously hurt, although eight of the workmen were taken to a hospital.

Lad Kills Stepmother and Self.

Ilwaco, Apr. 2.—A 14-year-old boy, Francisco Limonta, Wednesday killed his stepmother at Guantánamo. He then turned the pistol on himself and fired a bullet into his head, dying instantly. Before shooting his stepmother he said that she had been very cruel to him.

Not Drifting

There is such a thing as drifting in business and professional life. Just drifting along day by day, taking things as they come. Such a course does not get a man anywhere except nearer to the poorhouse. Dr. Richards in his Dental work is not a drifter.

He has a definite policy. He works towards an end. That end is to please his every patient just a little better than his competitors. Does this policy win?

The facts are, his Dental practice has grown during the last seven years until he has by far the largest Dental business in Janesville. Good work will win out.

Vigilant effort to avoid hurting also wins out.

Reasonable prices ought to appeal to your better judgment also.

Try him for your next Dental work, and you too will be convinced that he makes good.

APPLEBY NAMED CITY MARSHAL BY COMMISSION

ELECTED TO FILL VACANCY CAUSED BY BROTHER'S RESIGNATION.

TOOK IMMEDIATE CHARGE

Has Had Much Experience in Police Matters—Had Majority of Votes for Election.

George M. Appleby was last evening elected city marshal of Janesville to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of his brother, William H. Appleby, at a special meeting of the fire and police commission. Mr. Appleby received three votes for the office on the first ballot. Commissioners Sweeney, MacLean and Simpson voting for him; Commissioner Judd cast his ballot for John Brown and Commissioner W. S. Jeffers for Wallace Cochrane. The new marshal took immediate charge of his office. Mr. Appleby has had considerable experience in police matters, both as city marshal for Beloit, and as sheriff of the county and for the past year and a half as undersheriff. He has been a resident of Janesville for the past four years, since retiring from the office of sheriff, and has many friends who are today congratulating him on his election.

Before the election of marshal was held the commission examined both Mr. Appleby and Mr. Cochrane under the civil service rules and Fred J. Shaw for the position of patrolman. All three passed nicely. The height of Officer William MacLean being in doubt, he was measured officially and found to be of the required height.

This afternoon the fire and police committee of the common council met with the city attorney to take up the question of Patrolman Sam Brown's appointment to the force and will make their report to the council at their next session.

is designed to furnish a supply of currency for the National Banks in case of such emergencies as the country has recently passed through. This bank has for years carried $25,000 of unissued National Bank currency in its vaults and it now has $74,500 in unissued notes which it may put into circulation at any time. This in addition to the regular legal reserve required by the National Banking law, gives us total cash resources of $237,000.

Put This Stove in Your Kitchen

It is wonderfully convenient to do kitchen work on a stove that's ready at the instant wanted, and out of the way the moment you're done. Such a stove is the New Perfection Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove. By using it you avoid the continuous overpowering heat of a coal fire and cook with comfort, even in dog-days. The

NEW PERFECTION Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove

is so constructed that it cannot add perceptibly to the heat of a room; the flame being directed up a retaining chimney to the stove top where it is needed for cooking. You can see that a stove sending out heat in but one direction would be preferable on a hot day to a stove radiating heat in all directions. The "New Perfection" keeps a kitchen uniformly comfortable. Three sizes, fully warranted. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

The Rayo Lamp is the ideal lamp for family use—safe, convenient, economical and a great light giver. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

JOHN TYLER AND HIS VIRGINIA HOME AT WILLIAMSBURG

118 years ago March 29 was born at the little city of Greenway, Charles City county, Virginia, John Tyler, tenth president of the United States. The period of Mr. Tyler's life came at that chaotic stage in the United States government when so many questions of the greatest magnitude perplexed the country. Tyler's life from the time he was graduated from William and Mary college in 1807 was one continual opposition to the majority. He was a strict constitutionalist during the time when the majority favored more latitude for the government. He opposed the national banking system at a time when the majority wished to renew the charter. He upheld slavery at a time when there was a growing sentiment against it. His life was one continual fight and defeat.

Undaunted by these defeats he continued to uphold the principles he thought were right, and history records no star ever being cast upon his sincerity of purpose. At the time when the Missouri compromise was being fought out so bitterly in congress, he, as a member of congress from Virginia, opposed it, and took a prominent part in the debate against it. His arguments were two-fold: First, that if slavery were spread out over the entire Union it would so diffuse itself that no great harm could come to any section of the country from it, whereas if it were eliminated from the north and west and centralized in the south they would be the ones to receive the harm. Secondly, that Virginia, as one state, should be divided this right they would be on a different footing from Virginia, which would be unconstitutional. Tyler was very popular with his own state of Virginia, and was continually returned to congress by almost unanimous votes. He was governor of the state and was shown every favor possible. He represented the sentiments of the people. John Tyler was a lawyer by profession, a democrat by affiliation, and always a true patriot. He supported Andrew Jackson for the presidency,

THE MYSTERY

By STEWART EDWARD WHITE
And SAMUEL HOPKINS ADAMS

COPYRIGHT, 1907, BY McCLURE, PHILLIPS & CO.

"The doctor didn't ask me whether I'd go. He took it for granted. That's probably why I didn't back out. Nor did I tell him that the three life insurance companies which had foolishly and trustfully accepted me as a risk merely on the strength of a good constitution were making frantic efforts to compromise on the policies. They felt hurt, those companies. My healthy condition had ceased to appeal to them. What's a good constitution between earthquakes? No, there was no use telling the doctor. It would only have worried him. Besides, I didn't believe that the island was there. I thought it was a myth of that stranded ancient mariner's imagination. When it rose to sight at the proper spot, none were more astounded than the bad risk who now addresses you.

"Yet I must say for the island that it came handily up to specifications. Down where you were, Slade, you didn't get a real insight into its disposition. But in back of us there was any kind of action for your money—eyeglasses, hull repairs, fuming arsenic, cunning little caterpillars with half portions of molten lava ready to serve hot, more gases than you could create in all the world's chemical laboratories—in fact, everything to make the place a paradise for Old Nick and Dr. Schermerhorn. He brought along in his precious chest besides the radium some sort of raw material; also, as near as I could make out a sort of cake or guardianship scheme for his concentrated essence of 'cussedness' when he should get it out of the volcano.

"In the first seven months he puttered around the little funners, with an occasional excursion up to the main crater. It was my duty to follow on and drag him away when he fell unconscious. Sometimes I would try to get him before he was quite gone. Then he would become indignant and fight me. Perhaps that helped to lose me his confidence. More and more he withdrew into himself. There were days when he spoke no word to me. It was lonely. Do you know why I used to visit you at the beach, Slade? I suppose you thought I was keeping watch on you. It wasn't that; it was loneliness. In a way it hurt me, too, for one couldn't help but be fond of the old boy, and at times it seemed as if he weren't quite himself. Pardon me if I may trouble you for the matches. Thanks.

"Matters went very wrong at times. The doctor fumed like his little craters, growled out long whined, exhaustive German imprecations; wouldn't even eat. Then, again, the demon of work would drive him with throng and spur. He would rush to his craters, to his laboratories, to his ledger, for the purpose of entering unintelligible commentaries. He had some peculiar contrivance, like a mischievous retort, with which he collected gases from the craters. Whenever I'd hear one of those smash I knew it was a bad day. Meantime the volcano also became well, what you might call temperamental.

"It got to be a year and a quarter—a year and a half. I wondered whether we should ever get away. My tobacco was running short, and the bearing of the men was becoming idiotic. My visits to the beach became quite interesting to me. One day the doctor came running out of his laboratory with so bright a face that I ventured to ask him about departure.

"Not so long now, Percy," he said in his old, kind manner. "Not so long. The first real success. It's made. We have got under our fire control to bring it, but it's made."

"And about time, sir," said I. "If we don't do something soon we may have trouble with the men."

"No," said he in surprise. "But they could do nothing—nothing. He wagged his great head confidently. 'We are armed.'"

"Oh yes, armed. So are they."

"We are armed," he repeated obstinately. "Such as no man was ever armed away. Well, I've since wondered what would have happened had the men attacked us. It would have been worth seeing—and surprising. Yes; I'm quite certain it would have been surprising. Perhaps, too, I might have learned more of the great secret, and yet I don't know. It's all dark—a hint here, theory, were gifts of light. Where did I put— Ah, thank you!"

CHAPTER XXXIV.

OF some moments Darrow sat, gazing fixedly at the table before him. His cigarette tip glowed and faded. Some one suggested drinks. The captain asked Darrow what he would have, but the question went unnoticed. "How I passed the next six months I could hardly tell you," he began again, quite abruptly. "At times I was bored—fearfully bored. The element of mystery, of uncertainty, of underlying peril, gave a certain zest to the affair. In the periods of dullness I found some amusement in visiting the lower camp and bathing the digger. Slade will have told you about him. He possessed quite a fund of goodnature. He possessed more before I got through with him. Yes; if he had lived to return to his country I fancy he would have added considerably to Afro-American witchlore. You remember the vampire bats, Slade? And the devil fires? Naturally I didn't mention to you that the devil fire business wasn't altogether as clear to me as I pretended. It wasn't, though. But at the time it served very well as an amusement. All the while I realized that my self-entertainment was not without its element of danger, too. I remember guessing not altogether friendly, but always a little doubtful, a little nerved. Even Handy Solomon, practical as he was, had a scruple or two of superstition in his makeup on which one might work. Only Slade—Slade, I mean—was beyond me there. You puzzled me not a little in those days, Slade. Well—

"Did I say that I was sometimes annoyed by the doctor's attitude? Yes, it seemed that he might have given me a little more of his confidence, but even then I judge such a man as he was. Among the ordinary affairs of life he had relied on me for every detail. Now he was independent of me. Independent I doubt if he remembered my existence at times. Even in his blackest moods of depression he was sufficient unto himself. It was strange. How he did rage the day the chemicals from Washington went wrong! I was washing my shirt in the hot-water spring when he came bolting out of the laboratory and keeled me over. I came out pretty indignantly. Apologies? Not at all. He just spluttered. His nearest approach to coherence seemed to indicate a desire that I should go back to Washington at once and destroy a perfectly reputable firm of chemists. Finally he calmed down and took it out in entering it in his daily record. He was quite proud of that daily record and remembered to write in it on an average of once a week.

"Then the chest went wrong. Whether it had rusted a bit or whether the chemicals had got in their work on the hinges I don't know, but one day the professor, of his own initiative, recognized my existence by hugging his box out in the open and asking me to fix it. Previously he had emptied it. It was rather a complicated thing, with an inner compartment over which was a hollow cover, opening along one rim. That I conjectured was designed to hold some chemical compound or salt. There were many minor openings, too, each guarded by a similar hollow door. My business was with the heavy top cover.

"It should shut and open softly, gently," explained the professor. "So, not with a grating sound to be accompanied," he added, with his curious effect of linked phraseology.

"Half a day's work fixed it. The lid would stand open of itself until tipped at a considerable angle, when it would fall and lock. Only on the outer shell was there a lock. That one was a good bit of craftsmanship.

"So, Percy, my boy," said the doctor kindly, "that will with sufficient safety guard our treasure. When you obtain it, Percy. When it entirely finished and completed shall be."

"And when will that be?" I asked.

"God knows," he said cheerfully. "It progresses."

"Whenever I went strolling at night he would produce his curious lights. Sometimes they were fairly startling. One fact I made out by accident looking down from a high place. They did not project from the laboratory. He always worked in the open when the light was to be produced. Once the experiment took a serious turn. The lights had flickered and gone. Dr. Schermerhorn had returned to his laboratory. I came up the arroyo as he flung the door open and rushed out. He was a grotesque figure, clad in an undershirt and a worn pair of trousers fastened with an old bit of tarred rope in lieu of his suspenders, which I had been repairing. About his waist flickered a sort of aura of radiance which was extinguished as he flung himself headfirst into the cold spring. I hauled him out. He seemed dazed. To my questions he replied only by mumblings, the burden of which

Don't Starve

Dieting is starvation, to an extent. Your body requires many kinds of food, and to limit the variety means to rob some part. Eat what you need of the food that you want, for Kodol will surely digest it.

Leave the cure of Dyspepsia to Nature. But give Nature a chance.

Stop the pain immediately, for pain means that undigested food is irritating the stomach lining. And that lining, which is always inflamed in dyspepsia, will never get right while it is constantly irritated.

Stop the formation of gas, which comes from fermenting food. Stop the impurity which is fed to the blood by the food that decays. Supply your soul with plenty of nourishment. For recovery depends on gaining more strength, and on letting the stomach rest.

All that is done by Kodol—by digesting the food that you eat. For Kodol is a perfect digester.

You will say, perhaps, that you have tried digesters before. But you are mistaken.

You may have tried papain, but papain digests only albumen. You may have tried any of numerous preparations which digest part of the food. But Kodol alone digests all of the food. It is the only way to do that the digestive organs can do, when they are perfectly strong.

And the results are immediate. Kodol is liquid, like the digestive juices. Its action begins as soon as it enters the stomach.

You don't want to always depend on artificial digesters. We understand that.

But you must help the stomach while the stomach needs help. Else it will always need it.

If you sprain your ankle you must use a crutch for a time. You relieve the ankle until it gets strong. It would never get strong if you did not.

Help is a thousand times more important, when the stomach is weak. For imperfect digestion means that you don't get food.

Let the stomach rest for a time, just as you must rest when you wish to recuperate. That is all that is necessary and all that you can do.

Kodol alone contains all the digestive elements. And they are there in sufficient strength. A tablespoonful, taken after a meal, is enough to digest it completely.

This has often been proved by adding Kodol to food in a test tube. Keep the food moving, and keep the temperature right, just as the stomach does. Any sort of food, or any combination of foods, will be completely digested.

Papain alone won't do that. Other digesters won't do it. The only way to possibly do this is by the use of Kodol.

Our Guarantee

You may prove, without the risk of a penny, what Kodol can do. Buy one large bottle, and ask your druggist for the signed guarantee. If the results are not satisfactory, take the empty bottle back and your druggist will return your money.

This offer is made on the large bottle only, and to but one in a family. That will amply prove how much Kodol means to you. Then please tell your friends who need this help how easy it is to obtain it.

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DoWitt & Co., Chicago. The $1.00 bottle contains 2½ times as much as the 50c bottle.

For Fourteen Years I Have Waited For Something of This Kind.

These Are the Words as Used by William Scheel, of Alexandria, Minn.

For fourteen long years there has never been a day that I was free from pain or felt well. In that time I tried all kinds of doctors. All kinds of treatment, and all kinds of cures. Was compelled to pay out of my small income, all the money I could possibly spare and received no benefit from it. But I was brave. I would not give up. I had great hope. After trying everything as I did, I heard of Dr. Rea. I decided to investigate his methods. I was advised against seeing him. People told me not to go, but I did. I have learned since that the people who advised me the strongest were people that did not know anything about Dr. Rea. People whom he had never treated, but they were prejudiced thinking that Dr. Rea wanted my money as is usually the case with doctors who travel away from home. But to me, Dr. Rea's name was not a strange one. I had heard of him for ten years. But had not a convenient opportunity to see him. I am glad that I did, for he has cured me of the worst case of ulcer that I ever saw. Cured them with a few treatments, without pain, and without inconvenience to me. I am glad to say this much about Dr. Rea. I hope that others that are as sick as I was, will see him.

WILLIAM SCHEEL, Alexandria, Minn.

Below we publish an account of what Mrs. Edmeston, of Detroit, Minn., has to say:

I suffered untold agonies for nine years. I had a large ulcerated and inflamed sore leg. I had not been able to get a good night's rest for years. Had been treated by the best doctors throughout the land. Was in a hospital for a time where they wanted to operate on me and take my leg off. About that time I read of Dr. Rea's wonderful cures. I wrote to some of them. Found that they were bona fide, and went to see him, and made arrangements to be treated. The sore on my leg was about six inches long. Extended all around my leg. Dr. Rea said he could cure me, and he has. I thank the good Lord that I saw him and I trust that others will see him as I did.

Other cures made by Dr. Rea: C. Christensen, Northwest, N. D., Cured of cancer of the lip.

Woman Who Kept Her Vow.

Mrs. Heywood, who has died at Little League, near Northwest, at the age of 85, never rode in a railway train. When the Northwestern line between Cheyenne and the north was opened she, with others, awaited the passing of the first train through Acton bridge. Her first impressions were such that she vowed she would never travel by train, and she kept her word.—London Standard.

Perpetual Motion.

Inventor—I have just invented an improved perpetual motion machine that beats anything now on the market. Friend—But there isn't any perpetual motion machine in existence. How could you have an improvement? Inventor—I've got it all right; but I suppose you would call it a gas motor.

Natural Selection.

A singular freak of a tree is reported from Saint Gilles, one of the suburbs of Brussels. In an avenue a sapling, which had been planted and was trained to a prop, has grafted itself on to its support.

VALE IN MINNESOTA.

BLIZZARD DELAYS TRAINS

Cloudburst Hits Aberdeen, O., and Floods Do Much Damage in Kentucky—Several Lives Lost.

St. Paul, Minn., Apr. 2.—A terrific gale of wind is blowing here and is bearing a cold wave down from the northwest. The highest velocity Wednesday was 48 miles an hour. The cold wave will cause a drop in temperature to about ten degrees above zero.
Very low temperatures prevailed at most places in Manitoba and the territories. It was two degrees below zero at Medicine Hat and four below
at Prince Albert.

Blinding Snow at Barnesville.
Barnesville, Minn., Apr. 2.—One of the worst storms of this season is raging here. The wind blows the snow in blinding sheets, and one can scarcely see across the streets. The prairies are covered with wild ducks
and geese blinded by the storm.

Girl Lost in the Storm.
Crookston, Minn., Apr. 2.—The worst blizzard of the winter has been raging since Tuesday night. At Portal, Miss Ethel Gilson, aged 18, disappeared
and searching parties cannot find her.
It is believed she was demented and has perished in the storm. The railroad companies had removed their snow fences and trains are all late because of snow on the track.

Trains Badly Delayed.

Grand Forks, N. D., Apr. 2.—A heavy snowstorm accompanied by wind caused delay to trains in North Dakota Wednesday. The east-bound Oriental Limited of the Great Northern arrived four hours late and reported that the storm raged all the way from Great Falls, Mont. All the trains from the east were from half an hour to two hours late. The snow is drifting and it is thought traffic will be tied up west of Grand Forks. The weather is not cold. About a foot of snow fell here in 24 hours. It is reported that the Soo line from Ardock
west to Kenmare is badly tied up.

Cloudburst at Aberdeen, O.

Aberdeen, O., Apr. 2.—A cloudburst
here Wednesday afternoon did considerable damage and almost the entire town is flooded. The house of William Wilson and family was washed away, the family having a narrow escape from drowning. Another house was washed away, together with a large amount of livestock.

Three Drowned in Kentucky.

Mayesville, Ky., Apr. 2.—The worst storm in the history of Mayesville passed over here Wednesday afternoon, damaging property and merchandise to the extent of $75,000. Mrs.
D. Boone, son and daughter, on Lawrence creek, just west of here, were in their home which was washed away, all being drowned. A freight train on the Chesapeake & Ohio railway ran into a landslide west of here, ditching
it. The crew jumped and were uninjured, but traffic on that road was tied up for ten hours.

Great Log Gorge Formed.

Huntington, W. Va., Apr. 2.—The second timber boom in the Guyandotte river broke late Wednesday afternoon, releasing about 100,000 logs. Twenty thousand of them are estimated to have passed into the Ohio river, but some 80,000 formed a gorge against the piers of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad bridge. With the tremendous current in the river, and the rapidly increasing number of logs in the gorge, grave fears are felt for the safety of the bridge.

Bridge Falls, Three Drown.

Bluefield, W. Va., Apr. 2.—Three men were drowned Wednesday at Rock by the collapse of a suspension bridge spanning Bluestone river. All the streams in this section are swollen by heavy rains. The victims were standing on the bridge with five other men and boys watching the rushing current when the bridge gave way, precipitating the entire eight into the river.

Greatest Flood for Years.

Elkhorn, W. Va., Apr. 2.—The greatest flood ever recorded in the history of the Tug river and Elkhorn valleys, with the exception of that caused by the cloudburst of seven years ago,
when a hundred lives were lost, now prevails. In the past 36 hours the rainfall registered three inches and the Elkhorn, Tug, Bluestone and other streams in Virginia and West Virginia
are out of their banks.

Wednesday night along the Elkhorn
many hundreds of families are camping along the mountain sides, their homes being inundated. Three lives were reported lost at North Fork, W.
Va., and two at Keystone, W. Va.
Bridges are washed away along the Norfolk & Western railroad and traffic has been suspended.

Well-Known Miner Killed.

Boulder, Col., Apr. 2.—George R.
Dubois, a well-known miner who discovered the Lost Bullion mine near Silver City, N. M., and was one of the persons indicted by the federal grand jury in connection with the promotion of that concern, was shot and killed Wednesday at Ballarat, a mining camp near here, by Henry Bird, a hotelkeeper. Bird was then wounded by Dubois' son.

YORK COTTAGE.

The English Prince of Wales has concluded to give up the celebrated York cottage. The Prince has lived at York Cottage, Sandringham, since his marriage, but he finds the house too small and contemplates giving it up and taking a larger residence in the neighborhood. Most of the royal children of England were born in this York cottage.

HEINZ Baked Beans

Try them just once—ever afterward you'll instintively say "Heinz" when you want genuine baked beans.

First parboiled—as all good cooks do—to soften the skin and make them tender.

Then placed in dry-heated ovens and baked to a tempting golden brown—baked till every bean is so mellow and meaty, so finely flavored with that real New England zest and savor, that a single taste proves that the only way to cook beans is to bake them.

Finally blended with rich, finely-flavored tomato sauce, made in the HEINZ way from tomatoes which are grown specially for HEINZ. Surely, they even surpass your ideal of what beans ought to be.

Nor do any of these qualities diminish to the slightest degree, for the HEINZ Improved Tin (sterilized and solderless) insures permanent flavor and purity.

The great demand for HEINZ Beans by particular palates proves their superiority.

Beans (Boston Style); Vegetarian—Without Pork.

Do You Open Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down what ever food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to trust upon such knowledge. So he publishes, free of cost, and on each bottle, a paper, what his medicines are made of and what they will do. This he feels he can not afford to do because the more the ingredients of which his medicines are made are known and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, accompanied, oftentimes, with a debilitating, pelvic, catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to nursing mothers and in preparing the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth safe and comparatively painless. The "Favorite Prescription" is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. It is also a soothing and invigorating nerve and cures nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuritis, hysteria, nervous chorea or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs.

A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for free booklet, "Extracts from the leading authorities," to Dr. W. C. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

Gout the Foe of Consumption.

Sir Dyes Duckworth in his address to the British Faculty of Medicine said that many persons were constitutionally predisposed to rheumatism and gout, but an important characteristic in such cases was the antagonism of the tissues to the bacilli of tubercle bacilli. The more rheumatic or gouty a person was the less pronounced was his tendency to consumption.

SALVATION ARMY HAS
SELF DENIAL PERIOD

Sets Aside Week of April 19 to Raise Funds for the General Work
of Order.

The local officers of the Salvation Army are actively engaged in preparing for its annual week of self-denial, which has now become an established custom throughout the world. The dates fixed are April 19th to 25th. Last year the Army raised a princely sum by this means, which enabled it to pursue its missionary,
spiritual and social work with uninterrupted success.

Few persons seem to realize what a vast and world-wide movement this has become. These modern crusaders have now more than 15,715 officers under their banners, working in some fifty-four different countries and colonies and in their own country they are preaching the gospel to the poor in about thirty different languages. It appears from their different returns that the following countries and colonies have been invaded: Great Britain, France, Sweden, Finland, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Switzerland, Denmark, Norway,
Gibraltar, Italy, Iceland, Malta, India,
Ceylon, Java, Japan, Cape Colony,
Natal, Orange Free State, Zululand, Mashonaland, Bechuanaland, Transvaal, St. Helena, United States, Canada, Newfoundland, Argentina, Uruguay, Bermuda, Hawaii, Japan, the British Guiana, Victoria, New South Wales, Queensland, South Australia,
western Australia, New Zealand, Tasmania. Special expeditions are expected from China, and the native population of South Africa. Of social institutions the army has now a vast network, numbering in all about 785.

The army will adopt some very self-sacrificing measures in order to raise the amount of money agreed upon.
Every member, as well as the friends of the movement, is being requested to abstain from any article of food or clothing which may be considered luxurious, and many of the officers are even denying themselves of that which many of us are apt to regard as absolute necessities, in order that they may contribute something to the fund. That the effort will meet with success goes without saying, and there is no doubt that the friends of the movement, recognizing the vast amount of good already accomplished,
will not fail to afford their practical recognition when the proper time arrives. Capt. and Mrs. Fleming, officers in charge of the Janesville branch of the Salvation Army, have started out in right good earnest to make their self-denial effort a grand success. They have sent their workers out all over the city and surrounding villages to solicit funds for this work. It is the great wish of Capt. and Mrs. Fleming that anybody will feel it a great privilege to give to this glorious cause.

PURCHASES THE TWO
EVANSVILLE PAPERS

Enterprise and Tribune Office, Belonging to Libby Estate, Passes into New Hands.

Evansville, April 1.—The Evansville Enterprise and Tribune office, owned by the C. A. Libby estate, has been sold to George W. Mencham of Tigerton, Wis., and Mr. Mencham came into his new position at noon today, April 1. The Enterprise was started by the late C. A. Libby twenty-eight years ago and a few years later the Tribune was issued from the same office, virtually making of it a semi-weekly publication. Mr. Mencham comes to us as a full-blooded newspaper man, having had experience in this line of work and we trust that he will fully maintain the excellent standard acquired by Mr. Libby. Mr.
Mencham has already moved his family to Evansville and they are occupying the Libby property on Langford street. We bespeak for the new editor and his family a warm welcome
among Evansville people.

Heart Strength

Heart strength, or Heart weakness, means Nerve strength, or Nerve weakness—nothing more, for the heart is a muscle, and a muscle is either well, actually diseased, or it is almost always hidden little nerve that really is all at fault.
This obscure nerve—the cardiac, or heart nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. When the heart nerve is weak, the heart fails, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

for weak and ailing hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, debilitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and ailing nerve centers. It builds strength, it effects a cure, genuine heart health.

For months past we have carefully planned and worked for this Announcement and to say that we are prepared for a large demand is putting it mildly. We can say without fear of contradiction that there is no other stock in Southern Wisconsin that approaches ours for number of patterns shown, completeness of sizes, grades or prices. It is almost unnecessary for us to say this as thousands of people are familiar with the conditions.

It might surprise many people to know the distance our patrons travel to come to THE BIG STORE, for their floor coverings and curtains, and our satisfied customers are continually sending in new people. They tell of the tremendous assortment we are showing. We can please every taste and every pocket book. We always keep the quality up, and this makes us many friends. Purchasing as we do in great lots, we get rock bottom prices and give our customers this benefit. The largest manufacturers are anxious to see the biggest dealer first and therefore they come to us. We carry many lines exclusively.
